THE SUMMER GIRL AT EMPIRE

A Fantastical Farce Comedy Will Be the Attraction Tomorrow Night.

"The Summer Girl,' a fantastical farce comedy, directed by Edwin August, with Mollie King and Arthur Ashley in the leading roles, will be the attraction at the Empire theater tomorrow night. In this picture Miss King and Mr. Ashley appear in by far the best advantage of their motion picture careers. The story deals with a rich young girl who goes down south to spend the winter, plays the role of a mischievous young country girl, falls in love with an artist, poor but honest.

As success crowns the efforts of the latter, he seeks Mary, his country girl idol, only to find that she has gone to the city. From the laundress where Mary stopped, the artist learns her identity, and how she had outwitted. Succeeding in getting her address, seeks her out, and after a thrilling courtship, makes her his wife.

The production was directed entirely by Edwin August, and the beautiful spring and summer scenes, amid the daisy patches and running brooks were taken at Asheville, N. C. The story was written by L. V. Jefferson.

VON KOERBER, NEW PREMIER

Mistake in Dispatch Saying That Schiellingsfurst Had Been Appointed Premier of Austria.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Amsterdam, Oct. 26.—A Vienna dispatch reports Dr. Ernest Von Koerber has been appointed premier of Austria. He is minister of finance. The president of the Austrian council called him a great friend of Germany. Rome correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph previously reported Prince Schiellingsfurst had been named.

W. R. JACKSON OFF TODAY

Former Commercial Club Secretary Leaves for Washington, Pa.—New Secretary Coming Nov. 1.

W. R. Jackson, who has been secretary of the Commercial club, left today for Washington, Pa., where he has accepted the secretaryship of the board of trade of that city. After a few days visit in St. Joseph with Mr. Jackson's mother, he and Mrs. Jackson will leave for Washington.

Mr. Jackson made many friends while secretary of the Commercial club, and the club had a more successful progress and a great deal more was accomplished during his term than in the history of the club.

E M. Claypool, the new secretary, will arrive to assume his duties about the first of November.

TO SHOW FIRST CLASS FIGHT

Coach Pelfreyman to Do Some Shifting for Game With Highland College—Here is Lineup.

Everyone on Normal Hill feels that the Normal team must win the game from Highland College tomorrow. Two defeats in succession cannot be tolerated if it takes all we have to win including rooters. The Normal team will present an almost unrecognizable appearance to what it did in the Palmer College game two weeks ago.

As one of the members of the team said, "The Missouri-Wesleyan game taught us many things but one of the most important was to duck our heads and wade right in." In other words the Normal squad will show a high class of fight Friday afternoon, if we are any judge of conditions. Then Coach Palfreyman has decided to do some shifting, and his suggestions look good to us. Girard will start the game at fullback. Scott may be shifted from end to right half, but Hubbard who has been playing that position will be in the game somewhere at the start. Pickens or Bird, probably Pickens, will start at left half; Andrews or Pickens, at quarter; Brown, c; H. Sawyers and Nicholls, guards; Byerrum and Hahn, tackles; Farmer, e; Sawyers, Gannon and Scott, ends.

Not much is known of the Highland College squad but from their reputation, we presume that they have a good team. The game will start promptly at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow. Referee, Dick Wray.

To Have 40 Hours Devotion.

The members of St. Mary's Catholic church will have forty hours devotion, beginning at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and continuing until Tuesday evening. The Rev. Father Leo of Conception will conduct the services.

BAZAAR A SUCCESS

LARGE NUMBER PATRONIZE AFFAIR AT ST. PATRICK'S.

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY

Apron and Fancy Work Booths Contain Many Things Useful and Ornamental.

The first day of St. Patrick's bazaar was a complete success, both from a financial and social standpoint. About 275 persons were served with dinner at noon, and about sixty persons in the evening.

A thriving business was done all afternoon and evening at the various booths. The apron booth, in charge of Miss Mame Tobin, Miss Kate Vaughn and Miss Nellie Lynch, was well patronized. There you could find aprons for every occasion where aprons are "wearable." There were aprons for the kitchen and aprons for the fudge party, aprons for the sewing circle and aprons for the afternoon tea.

Moreover, this booth had a number of quilts and rugs on display that would delight any housewife.

The fancy work booth, gaily decorated with colored paper and flowers, was in charge of Mrs. Mary Keeler, Mrs. Thomas Parle, Mrs. F. M. Ryan and Mrs. G. R. Cornelius. The display in this section included every imaginable kind of needle work for wear or ornament. About seventy-five of these pieces were made by the Sisters of St. Benedict at Atchison, Kan., the children of St. Patrick's school furnishing the money for the material. The women in charge of the booth were well pleased with yesterday's sales and expect to dispose of the remainder of the display today.

The candy booth and country store were in charge of Misses Beatrice Growney, Bertha Tobin, Anna Parle and Ora Barmann. Here were displayed all of the "sweet-tooth" delicacies, and all of the groceries and vegetables usually found in the country store.

Dinner was served at noon today, and supper will be served this evening. A program will be given this evening as follows:

Reading—Fred Messbarger.

Violin solo—Fred Lewis Hakel.

Vocal duet—Richard and Dennis Collins.

FAILS TO ARRIVE

CUMMINS DOESN'T APPEAR, BUT SENDS GILLIN INSTEAD.

MEETING IS A "FROST"

Probably 300 Persons Watch Gentleman From Maine Drink Buttermilk—G. O. P. Lauded.

Probably 300 persons attended the Republican meeting held in the court house this afternoon, and probably 100 of these were Democrats. Senator A. B. Cummins, who had been well advertised as the speaker for this meeting, was unable to come on account of sickness. State Senator P. H. Gillin of Maine took his place. He arrived in the city this noon, accompanied by W. R. Tilson, J. S. Shinabargar and Tom Parle, who met him at St. Joseph.

Judge J. H. Sayler presided at the meeting and introduced Senator Gillin. The first part of his talk was devoted to the tariff. He said he was very much opposed to the Underwood bill, which was passed by the Democratic congress. He thought President Wilson should not be re-elected.

As one man expressed it, the meeting was a frost. It had been well advertised by the Republicans, with Senator Cummins as the drawing card, and then to think that not even a full court room would have greeted our neighbor, the senator from Iowa, and one-time candidate for president, had he put in his appearance.

"I understand that Senator Cummins is sick and that Senator Gillin has not been feeling well," said one man who attended the meeting. "There are a number of the Republicans just now who are feeling sick, and they will be awful sick after November 7."

Senator Gillin's voice was very husky. He had a pitcher of buttermilk on the table, and partook of the beverage frequently while he expounded to his audience the G. O. P. principles and depreciated the Democrats' lack of principle.

M'DANIEL CASE NOVEMBER 6

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

St. Joseph, Oct. 26.—As a direct result of the alleged charges made by Attorney General Barker that the state had been "jobbed" in the selection of a jury and the publication of these charges in an interview purporting to have been had with the attorney general, Judge Thomas F. Ryan yesterday ordered the panel to be quashed and the postponement of the trial of Oscar D. McDaniel until the November term of court, on November 6.

Plead for New Venire.

Although the attorneys for the defense pleaded and begged with the court for an immediate impanelling of another list of veniremen in order that the trial might still be held before election day, the judge was obdurate in his opinion that the trial could not be completed before the November term, and that because of this some question as to the legality of the trial might arise. The defense offered to pay for the added expense necessitated by the summoning of another list of prospective jurors at this time, but the suggestion was promptly vetoed by the judge, who told them that this was unheard of and could not be allowed.

HYDE TO SPEAK HERE

Judge Henry Lamm Defendant In 8 Tax Suits, Records Reveal

The Democratic state committee, from its headquarters in St. Louis, yesterday countered the attack made by the Republican organization against Fred D. Gardner, Democratic nominee for governor. The press was given copies of the records of Pettis county, the home of Henry Lamm, Republican opponent of Gardner, showing that since 1893 Lamm had been sued eight times for non-payment of taxes.

The Republicans have issued denunciatory circulars purporting to show Gardner, in qualifying as bondsman for Morrin and Barry, alleged bridge dynamiters, set forth he was worth $1,000,000, whereas in filing his personal tax return, he named an insignificant sum in comparison.

The Democrats say they sought to dissuade the Republicans from making a campaign of this sort, on the ground a full explanation of Gardner's tax return would be withheld in a partisan attempt to make votes, but the Republicans, it is said, refused to hear to it, and ignored the announced intention of the Democrats to circulate Lamm's tax record, which had been a matter of campaign knowledge for months.

Records of Pettis county, the seat of which is Sedalia, Judge Lamm's home, show a suit was filed against Judge Lamm March 21, 1893, by V. P. Hart, city collector, for $72.50 unpaid taxes for 1891 and 1892, and that judgment was rendered against him May 30, 1896. A concurrent suit for $3.90 also was filed in which judgment was rendered at the same time. Other suits, and their amounts, according to the announcement of Col. John A. Knott of Hannibal, publicity director of the Democratic state committee, are as follows:

February 27, 1895, by M. Doherty, collector of Pettis county, for state and county taxes for 1893, for $62.40. Judgment rendered May 30, 1896.

August 17, 1897, by W. U. Wiley, collector of Sedalia, for city taxes for 1893 and 1895, for $89.80. Dismissed June 3, 1911.

April 4, 1899, by John E. Rector, collector of Pettis county, for state and county taxes for 1895, 1896 and 1897, for $217.74. Judgment rendered December 24, 1900.

March 21, 1904, by E. B. McClure, collector of Pettis county, for state and county taxes for 1899, 1900, 1901 and 1902, for $2.36. Dismissed September 27, 1907.

December 10, 1914, by John H. Perdue, collector of Sedalia, for city taxes for 1909, 1910, 1911 and 1912, for $140. Settled and dismissed January 16, 1915.

Suit by John L. Sullivan, collector of Pettis county, for state and county taxes for 1905 and 1906, for $30.85.

Gardner frequently has explained that the apparent discrepancy of his personal tax returns of $3,470 for 1914 and $3,100 for 1915, is due to the fact that his wealth is represented by the stock in the St. Louis Coffin company, which is not assessed against the owner.

It also has been pointed out that Judge Lamm's personal tax return of $816 in 1916 was raised to $1,270 by the Pettis county board of equalization.

A GREAT SENATOR

SENATOR STONE PRAISES WORK DONE BY REED IN WASHINGTON.

DICKEY AND MARK HANNA

Senator W. J. Stone, in a speech in St. Louis Monday night, said the following about Senator James A. Reed and why he should be re-elected:

"I wish to say a word about my colleague, Senator Reed. If I should say all I would like to say in his behalf I would not have time left for anything else. He is, without a question of doubt, ranked as one of the greatest of our senators. My pleasure in saying this is all the greater because I have known him for more than a quarter of a century. I know the stuff of which he is made. He is a born fighter for whatever he thinks is right. He does not quibble or evade. He is a student, a worker, a thinker, an investigator. He goes into the heart of things, and has the courage of his convictions. He is without fear.

"To many of the most important measures of legislation enacted under this administration he has contributed as much as any senator, and to some of them more than any other. He did as much or more than any other senator in perfecting our great banking and currency law. Woodrow Wilson and James A. Reed, above all others, are the two men who routed the old-time corrupt lobby entrenched at Washington and ran it from the nation's capital.

Dickey and Mark Hanna.

"He is broad, generous, liberal and wholly American in all his ideals. We do not always agree about everything. He thinks for himself, as I do. In the main and upon essentials we do agree—rarely disagree. If perchance we differ about anything, I know he is always as honest as he is brave.

"And now we are asked to swap this thoroughbred for a dray horse imported from Canada. Shall we do it? An even swap would not be a fair trade. Perhaps we are to be offered boot. I have been told so. Mr. Dickey boasts that he is of the Mark Hanna type. I quote what he said of himself, or at least what was said, with his approval about him, on page 10 of the Republican state campaign textbook of this year. The textbook says:

A GREAT SENATOR

"'Those who knew Senator Mark Hanna in the days of his dominance believe that Mr. Dickey has many of that political chieftain's masterful characteristics as a political organizer.'

"Mr. Hanna's leading characteristics as a political organized are well known. He appraised and set a value upon whatever he wanted, and went forthwith into the market place to get it. He was master of a certain dangerous art of organizing, of manipulating, of procuring. Mr. Dickey boasts that he is likewise a master of this peculiar art.

"Lately I have heard strange stories from different parts of the state. As a sample I quote the following from a letter from Mexico, Mo., of date of October 18:

"'There is a rumor current here that a swap is on whereby Democrats are to vote for Dickey in return for Republican votes. My information comes from (I omit the name) who is a Republican. He made the statement in the presence of our secretary of the county committee, that he had been asked and expected to deliver 20 Republican votes—Dickey to receive 20 Democratic votes in return.'

Denounces Vote Trading.

"The letter proceeds with further details; but what I have read is sufficient. This is only a sample of what I hear. Is it true? It accords with the stories current when Hanna was elected senator. I refer to this matter and comment upon it only to warn. In addition, let me say that anyone who barters his vote in any way is a god—not a man. Any person who would so dishonor the voting franchise is unfit to have it. He is a dog—not a man. I warn our state committee to guard against this evil. I also warn the Republican state committee to guard against it. Both committees should protest against and prevent such a crime for the honor of the state.

"One other thing: I have said that Wilson and Reed are the two men above all others who routed the lobby. The president denounced the lobby, and thus gave the weight of his authority to the attack upon it.

Says Reed Killed Lobby.

"But Reed did the real work; he conducted the fight; he gathered and represented the testimony; he struck the deadly blow that destroyed it."

FELL FROM LOFT; HURT; THEN WELL

How a Man Who Landed on Wood Pile and Was Sore From Head to Foot Found Quick Relief.

Once upon a time Edwin Putnam, who lives in the quiet, pretty hamlet of Wendel Depot, Mass., climbed up into a loft to get some building material, just as many another man living in the country must often do. Suddenly he slipped and fell. Ten feet below was a pile of wood, knotted and gnarled. It was a nasty tumble, and Mr. Putnam was injured painfully in the back, he was covered with bruises, and was sore from head to foot.

The next day he bought a bottle of Sloan's Liniment, which had been recommended to him. Within a very few hours the soreness had vanished and the lameness had disappeared. He was an active man once more.

Sloan's Liniment can be obtained at all drug stores, 25c, 50c and $1.00.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH

PROTECTION NOT MERELY A MEDICAL PROBLEM,

INVOLVES COMPLETE PLAN

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—The protection of public health is more than a mere medical problem, Dr. W. C. Rucker, assistant surgeon general, United States public health service, told the American Public Halth association in an address here today.

Community health cannot be called "purchasable," he said. It must rest on co-operation and a broad municipal policy.

"A public health program for cities is in reality nothing more or less than a complete plan for communal existence," said Dr. Rucker.

"Unfortunately, health has been considered in the past solely as a medical problem, and the pendulum has been enthusiastically swung so far that health is almost regarded as an artificial state to be achieved and maintained solely through the interposition of medical safeguards.

"Expert knowledge of disease is absolutely necessary for the work of the health department, but cannot be the foundation of a broad municipal health policy. Public health is something more than a mere absence of disease. It is the physiological functionation of the community.

"The keyword in this public health policy is co-operation—co-operation having as its basis the full recognition of the fact that in its last analysis the health problem is an economic problem, and as such cannot be solved without careful consideration of the economies of the community.

"There has been a great deal said about the purchasability of health. This pleasing catchword has generally been interpreted as meaning that if the general public would give sufficient funds to the health department it would receive health in exchange.

"Used in this way, the phrase is incorrect, because physical health can no more be purchased than spiritual health, and in both, co-operation is a pre-requisite to salvation.

"If we consider that health is purchasable by the full pay envelope whose contents are outlaid for proper food, clothing, housing, and all that goes with them, then indeed is public health purchasable, but this requires the co-operation of the city and its citizens, the aim of this co-operation being the prevention of the shrinkage in the purchasing power of the contents of the pay envelope."

WALL ST. WOMEN TOUR FOR HUGHES

MAKES SUFFRAGE PRETENSE

Many of Party on Train de Luxe Repudiated by Leaders of Woman's Movement—Paid Speakers to Do Talking.

Wall street is too busy harvesting Democratic prosperity to go campaigning—but it is sending its womenfolk. The greatest aggregation of wealth and social distinction ever represented by fuss, feathers and femininity left New York on Monday, Oct. 2, by special train de luxe, to tell their sisters of the West how to vote. Many of these women, claiming to be equal suffrage workers, are repudiated by leaders of that movement.

Stopping at Albany, Utica and Syracuse on their first day, the itinerary takes the women's campaign train through the principal cities of the north route across the continent and brings them back through Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri and Kentucky, a tour lasting until November 4. The expenses are paid by and the tour is conducted under the auspices of the Women's Committee of the National Hughes Alliance.

"Women's Hughes Alliance" sounds innocent and harmless enough, until one examines the personnel of the organization and discovers that it represents the feminine side of the organized and Morganized wealth of Wall street.

The treasurer of the Women's Committee is Mrs. Mary Harriman Rumsey, daughter of the late Edward H. Harriman, railroad magnate and "practical man" of the days when Theodore Roosevelt received campaign funds from the "crooked business" which political exigency later led him to denounce.

These Provide the Funds.

With Mrs. Rumsey on the Finance Committee are Mrs. Robert Bacon, whose husband was translated from the House of Morgan to be Roosevelt's Assistant Secretary of State, and later Ambassador to France; Mrs. Bernard H. Ridder, wife of one of the proprietors of the New York Staats Zeitung, leader of the German propaganda against President Wilson; Mrs. W. H. Crocker, widow of the California mining and railroad multimillionaire.

On the Train Fund Committee are Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, of the Smelter Trust; Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, representing inherited millions of railroad capital; Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt; Miss Maude Wetmore, of the wealthy Rhode Island family of that name; Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, daughter of Theodore Roosevelt, whose husband is Nicholas Longworth, in Congress from Ohio.

Many of the junketers who are going along to do the speaking are professional women, who could not afford the luxury of special trains nor the diversion of campaigning without pay. But back of them, with their money and the glamour that attaches to their gilded names, are the women standing as financial sponsors for this greatest society show that ever was put on wheels.

Some of these wives and daughters of the super-rich will go along on this mission and with their presence, if not with their oratory, will warn the women of the west—who are already voters—that their country cannot be "saved" unless the women cast their vote for the candidate of plutocracy.

The letterhead from Republican campaign headquarters gives only the names of the Train Fund Committee as above, but besides them there is an additional committee in charge of this feature of the Hughes campaign.

Others in on the Junket.

On this committee appear in addition to the foregoing members, the following:

Mrs. E. T. Stotesbury, whose husband is a Philadelphia partner of J. P. Morgan & Co.; Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, wife of the Sugar Trust and Standard Oil magnate; Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, mother of William Randolph Hearst, owner of millions in American mines and Mexican plantations; Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who has undertaken to raise half a million dollars to defeat President Wilson; Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of the multimillionaire mining man; Mrs. Mary Dreier, New York society leader, of a wealthy German family with strong antipathy to President Wilson.

A leading attorney of Pocatello, Idaho, writing to the Democratic National Committee, says:

"I read with deep interest of the preparations of the Silk Stocking, Poodle Dog, Feminine Brigade that is soon to start on its million dollar special across the continent to awaken the enthusiasm of the mothers and women who carry the burden of our national greatness on their shoulders, to vote for their Idol, Hughes.

"It will not be difficult for the rank and file of the common people to see the hypocrisy of this movement."

A TWICE TOLD TALE.

One of Interest to Our Readers.

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hesitated to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. Te following experience of a Maryville woman is confirmed after four years.

Mrs. Martha Partridge, 901 E. Fourth street, Maryville, says: "I suffered from kidney and bladder complaint. My suffering was intense and I was weak and languid. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and received good relief." (Statement given December 13, 1911.)

A Later Endorsement.

On June 12, 1916, Mrs. Partridge said: "I use Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I am in need of such a medicine and they always give me benefit. I have no hesitation in recommending them."

WHAT MISSOURI NEEDS AND WANTS.

No Democrat will question this need for one moment. Look at what the Missouri State Government was doing just four short years ago for the public good, and look at what it is doing now. Note the changes in the school laws, the road laws, the public service laws, the public health laws, the insurance laws, the banking laws. A governmental machine which has so greatly increased its load is bound to need overhauling. That is conceded.

But the Republican candidate has not one constructive suggestion to make as to the manner in which this overhauling should be done. He does not even promise to do it. As we understand him, he is fully satisfied with the governmental and legal machinery as at present established. In his opinion, it only needs him to run it.

Mr. Gardner, on the other hand, is deeply dissatisfied with it. He is a manufacturer and has been for a long time at the head of a growing business. The machinery of that business has had to grow as the business grew. From time to time he has put experts into offices and shops to find out what changes were needed and has then put them into effect.

To Mr. Gardner the idea of a State Government that did not periodically need the same thing is unthinkable. Missouri is a growing concern, with a business increasing in complexity as well as in volume; he believes that it shares the needs of all other growing concerns. He has pledged himself as a business expert to investigate, to cut off waste, to stop leaks.

This is what the people of Missouri want. They know that the state's business has outgrown the old machinery. They want a business expert of courage, character and vision in the governor's chair and are determined to have him.

THEY WANT GARDNER.

This is hard on Mr. Lamm, but we see no help for that.—St. Louis Republic.

PARTISANRY AND PATRIOTISM.

At a meeting of the American Society of International Law in April, 1914, Senator Root was one of the chief orators. The Mexican situation was then thought to be at a very critical stage. The Washington Post's account of Mr. Root's speech said that he "spoke with tears streaming down his cheeks and in a voice that shook with emotion." He did not until after his speech was delivered know that the crisis had been averted by the interchange of notes between our department of state and the South American countries which brought about the A. B. C. Conference. And it is said that he was profoundly affected when the Secretary of State informed the assemblage of that happy averting of the crisis.

Mr. Root's speech was reported as follows:

"I have been feeling very unhappy during the last few days over our affairs in Mexico," he said. "It is not in the possibilities of human nature to avoid difference of opinion as to policy, and every one who has a duty to perform must act according to the dictates of his own judgment and conscience in the performance of that duty. I wish the cup could pass from us."

At this point in his speech the Senator's voice grew husky and tears welled from his eyes.

"But the President has acted upon his responsibility and his conscience. He is the head of this great nation. It is for the nation that he acts. No matter how we may have differed in our opinions of policy in the past, we must all, every one of us, stand loyally by him. There must be no backward look, but forward, for the success and honor of our beloved country, which we best serve in loyal support of the chief magistrate upon whom rests the responsibility of leadership.

"Thank Heaven, we have a President in whose lofty character, in whose sincerity of purpose, in his genuine desire to do what is right, wise, patriotic, and what is best for the country and humanity, we can all trust absolutely. I trust in it. I have differed from him in questions of policy, and doubtless shall differ from him again. Men coming up with different environments and associations and ideas must differ; but I have confidence in the character and purpose of the President of the United States. He is my President, and I will stand behind him in his leadership."

Three days later in the Senate when force was proposed against Mexico he said that even a threat of force would tend "to reverse the policy of the United States and take a step backward in the path of civilization."

Which is partisanry and which is patriotism?

What counsel are the people of America who wish to stand by what is right, who wish to vote wisely, according to the best interests of the country, who wish to stand by things that are just and to approve them—which counsel must they follow? That of 1914, when no partisan feeling embittered or distorted the views of Mr. Root, or his counsel now in the heat of a political campaign?

PROF. TAUSSIG'S STAND.

Another addition to the ranks of those who are publicly supporting the president for re-election is Prof. F. W. Taussig of Harvard. For a foreign policy he says the Republicans offer "nothing but a vague, yet ominous, policy of firmness and question-begging talk about true Americanism." In domestic affairs he cannot find that the Republicans offer any change except the tariff where they "threaten a return to a crude protectionism."

That is, indeed, about all there is of the affirmative campaign made by the Republican party. Their "firmness," which Prof. Taussig finds to be ominous, is personified in Col. Roosevelt, and for their tariff policy we need only to turn back to Dingley, McKinley—before the Buffalo speech—Aldrich and Payne. Of the president's administration, Prof. Taussig says:

"I shall vote for President Wilson because I believe him to be a man of high ideals and at the same time a commanding political leader. His policy with regard to the European war has been one of calm and sincere neutrality, without bluster and without weakness. His Mexican policy has been based upon a deep desire to aid the people of that unhappy country, and to convince all the South American states that we have no intention of aggression or conquest; and it has saved us from the calamity of a jingo war."

Prof. Taussig's standing as a leader of economic thought is so high that we do not need to re-enforce his opinion with any record of his honors and achievements.—St. Louis Republic.

J. W. Dawson, a Hughes elector in West Virginia, has withdrawn from the Republican ticket and will support Wilson. In his statement Mr. Dawson, among other things, says: "I do not find in Mr. Hughes' addresses that candor and directness of assertion which I had expected of him. When questions are put to him on matters vital to the United States he qualifies his replies with evasions and fails to meet the issues squarely."

Even without New York, which they consider safe, Democratic leaders figure that President Wilson will have 267 votes in the electoral college. Starting with the solid south and including Oklahoma, they figure 136, and then add Missouri, Maryland, West Virginia, Nebraska, Ohio, Indiana, Connecticut, Wisconsin, Colorado, New Mexico, South Dakota, Arizona and Kentucky.—St. Joseph News-Press.

CARE OF THE TEETH

49.3 PER CENT OF SCHOOL CHILDREN HAVE DEFECTIVE TEETH.

Over 14 Per Cent Never Use a Tooth Brush—Bad Teeth Cause of Many Chronic Affections.

A recent investigation made by the U. S. public health service in connection with studies of rural school children showed that 49.3 per cent had defective teeth, 21.1 per cent had two or more missing teeth, and only 16.9 per cent had had dental attention. Over 14 per cent never used a tooth brush, 58.2 per cent used one occasionally, and only 27.4 per cent used one daily. Defective teeth reduce physical efficiency. Dirty, suppurating, snaggle-toothed mouths are responsible for many cases of heart disease, rheumatism and other chronic affections. The children are not responsible for the neglected state of their teeth. The ignorant and careless parent is to blame for this condition—a condition which hampers mental and physical growth and puts a permanent handicap on our future citizens. School teachers can and are doing much in inculcating habits of personal cleanliness on the rural school child, but this will fail of the highest accomplishment unless parents co-operate heartily and continuously. This is a duty which we owe our children.

BURLESON'S "THREE STRIKE"

"The Democratic party seems to have enough capacity to run the Post Office Department. Postmaster General Burleson has deposited a check for $5,200,000 with Secretary McAdoo, being the profits of the fiscal year of 1916."

But it isn't; it is the Philadelphia Public Ledger, a paper that is supporting Hughes, telling its host of readers about merely one of the deeds of the Wilson Administration.

Continues the Ledger:

"The Secretary of the Treasury replies that his department has experienced the sensation of receiving a postal surplus only three times, and those three times have been under the Administration of President Wilson and Mr. Burleson. But we have no hope that this will satisfy Mr. Hughes. He will tell the next audience he gets hold of that the service is not nearly so good as it used to be when Postmaster Generals were Republicans and there was a deficit every year, the amount being something over $17,000,000."

The gospel team of the First Baptist church will hold services at Fairfax, Walkup's grove and Bethany Sunday. Charles Hyslop will be the leader.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT ACTUALLY DID TO AVERT STRIKE DISASTER

Before I consulted with them (the railway executives and the representatives of the employes) I made myself acquainted with the points at controversy.

The first thing I told both sides was that I stood for the eight-hour day. We believe in the eight-hour day because a man does better work within eight hours than he does in a more extended day. I said to the railroad executives: "You are asking that the result of the eight-hour day be predicted and the prediction be arbitrated. The reasonable thing to do is to grant the eight-hour day not because the men demand it, but because it is right and let me get authority from Congress to appoint a commission to observe the results and report in order that justice may be done the railroads in respect of the cost of the experiment."

That was the proposal which they rejected and which Congress put into law, a proposal which I made to them before I conferred with it, which I urged upon them at every conference, and which when the one side rejected and the other accepted I went to Congress and asked Congress to enact. I did not ask either side whether it suited them, and I requested my friends in Congress not to ask either side whether it suited them. I learned before the controversy began that the whole temper of the legislative body was in favor of the eight-hour day.

In the House of Representatives the plan was passed, was sanctioned, by a vote which included seventy Republicans as against fifty-four Republicans. In the Senate the Republican members held a conference in which they determined to put no obstacle in the way of the passage of the bill. Now, this was because the proposal was reasonable and was based upon right.—From President Wilson's speech to New Jersey business men at Shadow Lawn, N J., Sept. 23.

The Eurekans gave the assembly program this morning, and it was as follows:
Piano Solo.....Nola Mitchell

Vocal Solo.....Brownye Helpley
Dramatization of, "The Three Bears" in Spanish.....Clifford Hicks Gilles and Ross McReynolds, the "bears;" Myrtle Wells, "Golden Locks."
Oration.....C. H. McReynolds

The Y. W. C. A. will give a Hallowe'en social Friday night in the library, to the members of the faculty and the students. Great preparations are being made by the girls, and a good time is anticipated. It will be a masked affair and one of the first student-body socials of the new year.

The other day we were studying "habit" in psychology. Prof. Osburn after telling of seeing a goose in a circus that followed a clown anywhere in the crowd, said, "That goose had learned the habit when very small and had grown up with it. That is the same way with a chicken. If you want a chicken (?) to follow you and always do so and never leave you, you must begin training it when it is very young."

The Eurekan and Philomathean Literary societies will take sides in a mock trial which will be given the latter part of the quarter. The Eurekans, through their representatives, Don Roberts and C. H. McReynolds, will prosecute and the Philomatheans will defend. It is proposed to fight the case out strictly on the merits of the situation. The jury will be chosen from either the Excelsior society or from the non-literary members of the student body. The subject of the trial is a live question before the American public today and for that reason scarcely anything will need to be assumed.

The annual staff of the Senior class met for the first time last evening with Miss Sobbing on West Seventh street. Professor Harrington, class advisor, was also present.

Ladies Coats

We have been complimented this season on our showing of Ladies Coats. Everyone says the styles and materials are the most beautiful shown in Maryville and they do not see how we can offer such values for the prices ask. When customers tell us this unsolicited it makes us feel good and we want to tell others as it is certainly a good advertisement. We have sold quantities of coats and there must be something about our line that is different from other lines and that especially appeals to coat buyers.
